

Looking for professional-level education?

St. Anthony's Cathedral House of Liturgical Studies prepares students in a number of ways for community service/social justice and ministry in the communions and denominations in which they plan to serve:

- Delivering core courses that inform their ministry,
- Providing education and spiritual formation to prepare them for ordination in their respective communions and allowing them to explore their rich denominational heritage and identity (see houses of study or concentrations below),
- Offering continuing professional development for their diverse ministries, and
- Creating opportunities for personal spiritual formation.

Houses of Study Customized Development

Upon completion of the House of Studies program, graduates will have:

- Acquired a deeper knowledge of historical theology and the Bible to more effectively function in various roles in a church setting;
- Developed skills in studying the Bible;
- Formed a sound foundation for continuing scholarly biblical studies and theology; and
- Prepared for vocational opportunities as a diaconate or presbyter or in various professional fields in ministry and theology.

Old Catholic: Plans are currently in progress to offer a series of formation courses for ordination in the Catholic Church in America. Courses focus on traditional Catholic principles and moral theology. St. Anthony's courses are accepted and certified by St. Jude Theological Seminary and The Catholic Church in America for ordination.

Liturgical: The Liturgical House of Study offers students a variety of course options that focus on liturgical formation and tradition, regardless of denominational affiliation.

Eastern Church: A concentration focused on Syriac studies—including Basic Syriac/Aramaic, The Lord's Prayer, Syriac Patristics, and a final project—will offer an introduction to Eastern Church Studies.

Practical Ministry: Students who are interested in building skills for practical ministry (service) across denominational lines may wish to enroll in this multi-year program that will guide them through a series of subjects that proactively address the what, why, and how of service.

Degrees and Current Academic Pathways

The House of Studies plans to offer ecclesiastical and professional/ministry degrees in the very near future. Visit our website (below) for more details and current academic agreements. The House of Studies is an educational outreach and operates under the authority of the Ecumenical Catholic Church of Christ (www.ecumenicalccc.org).

Course Benefits

1. In-depth instruction (college level and based on biblical scholarship).
2. Qualified instructors: all hold at least a masters degree or rough equivalent; 75% have earned doctorates (instructor listing/biographies online).
3. Flexible: (1) self-paced online format available for most courses—up to a full year; (2) face-to-face (residential) instruction may be available with five or more students.
4. Affordable (low tuition cost and nominal fees)!

Questions, academic policies, registration? Visit www.stanthonyliturgicalhouse.org.

Program Summary, Courses, Enrollment, and Current Teaching Faculty

Program Summary

- Two tracks: Continuing education units (CEUs) or academic credit¹ awarded for most courses.
- Cost per credit hour: $75.50 for 3 CEUs and $108 for 3 academic credits (cost includes fees).
- Clergy: Courses might qualify for (re)certification requirements. Contact your licensing body to determine if it will accept St. Anthony CEUs and credits.
- Seniors (age 62+): Ask about our special discounted rates, tuition-free audits, and scholarship programs.

¹ Note: Students will need to successfully complete additional assignments to earn academic credit.

Steps to Enroll and Complete Courses

1. Review the course(s) listed in the schedule and select the courses in which you wish to enroll.
2. Complete the registration form.
3. Return the registration form with your payment via mail or register and pay online.
4. Receive via e-mail or mail an enrollment confirmation with location/time for residential courses or access information for online courses once registration and payment are processed. Course materials, except textbooks, will be provided at first session or online.
5. Attend 90% of face-to-face sessions or listen to/view all the online lessons up to a full year on Canvas. There is no homework per se.
6. Complete the short assignment (quiz, paper, or project) and return it to your instructor then complete an online survey.
7. Receive a paper transcript with the course title, CEUs, and date of completion and certificate of completion with your name and course title (mailed to the address provided).

Current and Future Course Schedule

Course offerings are listed online. New courses are announced as they become available.

Existing Courses

- Old Catholic History and Modern Relevance (3 CEUs)
- Introduction to Revelation (1 CEU)
- Prophets: Nature, History, and Setting (3 CEUs/3 academic credits)
- Narrative Reading of Gospel of John (3 CEUs/3 academic credits)
- Introduction to New Testament Greek (3 CEUs/3 academic credits)
- Basic Biblical Syriac Aramaic (3 CEUs/3 academic credits)
- Basic Latin (3 CEUs)
- Introduction to Biblical Counseling (3 CEUs)
- Support for Caregivers (3 CEUs)
- Pastoral Ministry and Balance (3 CEUs)
- Spiritual Direction (3 CEUs/3 academic credits)

Existing Seminars

- History of Biblical Worship (0 CEUs)
- Revitalizing Your Ministry (0 CEU)

Courses Coming Soon

- Basics of Aramaic/Syriac: Lord's Prayer
- Old Testament Survey
- New Testament Survey
- Introduction to Biblical Hebrew
- Biblical Hermeneutics
- Co-Creating as Prayer
- Reconciling Violence in Ministry
- Pastoral Psychology
- Additional seminar titles: Torah, Christ, Salvation; Finding Faith in Troubled Times

Instructors Currently Teaching Courses

- Michael Callahan, D.D., O.C.R.
- Jim DeFrancisco, D.Min., Ph.D.
- Leland Lannoye, S.T.L., S.T.D.
- Judy Quitoriano, S.T.L., D.D.
- Tom Roberts, Ph.D., D.D.
- Gary A. Staszak, M.A., C.A.S.

For a complete listing of instructors/specialists and biographies, visit our website.

Questions, academic policies, registration? Visit www.stanthonysliturgicalhouse.org.